The Board of Directors of Allianz Global Investors Fund (SICAV) (the "Company") hereby gives notice of the following changes, which will become effective on 29 September 2023:

Name of the Sub-Fund	Subject of the Change (Disclosure in the Prospectus)	Rationale / Motivation Additional Information	Change
			Present Approach	New Approach
Allianz ActiveInvest Balanced	Investment Objective (Appendix 1, Part B)	An annually updated neutral allocation in-line with client expectations of volatility instead of a benchmark shall be used going forward. In fact, no benchmark shall apply going forward. The risk management approach will therefore be changed from relative value-at-risk to the commitment approach.	Long-term capital growth and income by investing in a broad range of asset classes, in particular in the global bond-, equity-, alternative- and money markets. The Sub-Fund achieves its investment objective by investing in investment funds (including internal SFDR Target Funds) with different regional focuses from a global investment universe. Overall, the goal is to achieve over the medium-term a performance comparable to a balanced portfolio consisting of 50% global equity markets and 50% Euro bond markets. Allianz Volatility Strategy Fund	Investment Restrictions (Appendix 1, Part B)	Please note, the rationale behind enhancing the description of the Strategy is to provide more transparency on the investment process.	Description of the Volatility Strategy (the "Strategy") Sub-Fund's portfolio management may use different variance swaps running in parallel. These swaps may differ in terms of swap period, underlying security and strike variance. A variance swap results in a financial settlement between the parties at the end of the swap period. The value of a variance swap does not depend 1:1 on the absolute performance of the underlying to which it refers; instead, it depends in particular on the change in the annualised realised variance of the respective underlying in the respective swap period. For this reason, the value of a variance swap may even rise when the value of its underlying is dropping, or it may fall when the value of its underlying security is rising. The success of the portfolio management's investment strategy therefore depends particularly on the extent to which, within the quantitative approach, the change in the annualised realised variance of the respective underlying can be accurately forecast for a corresponding swap period. Depending on how the variance swap is structured, the Sub-Fund's potential loss resulting from the variance swap may also be automatically limited by the portfolio management.	Description of the Volatility Strategy (the "Strategy") Sub-Fund's portfolio management may use different variance swaps, generally capped, running in parallel for the purpose of harvesting volatility premium.
